The staffroom at Stanhope Road school was 25 years old and needed a full renovation including a furniture fit out. Principal Zane Wilson contacted our Auckland account manager Graham Lyons for assistance with the furniture.

The room required seating for 30-35 staff and needed to provide a mixture of different use areas within the one space. Zane also wanted the room to be cheerful and brightly coloured so significant thought had to be put into the selection of the right furniture fabrics. Fortunately the room had been freshly painted before installation of our furniture so we had a nice blank canvas to work with.

To create the different areas within the staffroom, Educated Furniture provided a mixture of café style seating near the kitchen for eating, relaxed sofas and Mayfair Chairs with coffee tables for relaxing and bar leaners and tall tables to create a higher seating level. Once all the new furniture had been installed, Graham identified that the flow within the room could be improved so a few pieces of furniture were shifted around and once this was done the staffroom looked fantastic.

After installation, Zane also realised that he required another coffee table and a long table for setting out shared morning teas so Graham and the team worked hard to get these tables to the school quickly and in colours that matched the existing furniture already supplied.

With our help the new Stanhope Road School staffroom was transformed into a bright and cheerful space to eat and relax and Zane and the teachers absolutely loved being in the refurbished space.
